"I am the original comfort cap."

ON many occasions you would be happier if you could make your cap tight. On windy days—for outdoor sports—tennis, golfing, motorcycling. That's where I come in. My little invisible strap enables you to adjust me to any degree of ease or snugness you desire. (Illustrated below).

The very day you try me on in the store you'll observe how precisely I fit your head. But what's more—I retain that accurate fit permanently... never vary, never become too roomy or too tight for you. Yet to look at me you would not think I had any "tricks" under cover. I am smartness itself. I am made of the most modish tweeds and woolsens. Fashionable men, like movie artists and club men, prefer me to any other cap made.

Try me once. The stores are all showing me off. I am the "SURE-FIT" Cap. I'm adjustable. Get me.

Amusements

EULOGIZING VIRTUE ALONE WON'T UPLIFT SCREEN

Katherine MacDonald Says Value of Good Can Best Be Emphasized By Contrast With Evil.

The relative value of good and evil can be most effectively demonstrated by a suitable comparison of virtue and sin and not by the eulogizing of virtue alone, thinks Katherine MacDonald, Associated First National star of "Trust Your Wife," the screen adaptation of Harry S. Sheldon's newest play of the same name, showing at the Broadway theatre today and tomorrow. This is the American Beauty's answer to those advocating the elimination of the "vampire" from the screen.

"Take the devil from the Bible, Apollon from Euripides' Progress, the wicked stepmother from the fairy tale and you have killed the story and the moral it set out to teach. The exaggerated 'Vampire' of past cinema seasons has already been eliminated by progressive producers because the character was repulsive, overdrawn and illogical but an unconventional woman must continue to teach the value of conventions through screen comparison," says Miss MacDonald.

"I do not believe that young girls are influenced for evil by seeing a sinful or foolish woman portrayed in films. The reputable producer always sees that virtue is rewarded and that the wages of sin are death. Personally I cannot recall a picture in which the wiles of the so-called vampire brought that character anything that might be interpreted as a reward for her folly. Her vice, however, has been made an object lesson and a warning and the result can be nothing short of inestimable good."

FUNERAL OF MRS. WHITE WAS HELD YESTERDAY

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Sparrow White, widow of A. C. White, was held from the residence near Slatesville, Va., Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. T. E. Peters, pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. T. Ryland Sanford of Chatham. Her death came as a shock to her many friends. Although deceased had been a sufferer for several years her kind disposition was an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact.

Mrs. White is survived by the following brothers and sisters: J. D. Sparrow, of Martinsville, E. F. Sparrow, Oklahoma City, Mrs. S. I. Gardner and Mrs. J. T. Hodnett, of the county. Mrs. W. D. Mitchell, of Ridge-way, an adopted daughter. Mrs. Frank Guerrant and three grand-children, of Keelng. Nephews of the deceased, a grandson, Frank Guerrant, Jr., and A. S. Carroll, acted as pall bearers. The floral designs were carried by many of her friends. Interment was made in the family plot near the home.

Great Rally For D. M. I. Fund Marks A Dinner At Club

In response to an invitation from Harry R. Fitzgerald, chairman of a committee which directed a recent canvass for funds with which to pay off a mortgage debt of $15,000 on the Danville Military Institute preliminary to its being taken over by the Presbyterian synod of Virginia and operated as a synodical secondary school, a group of fifty-one or fifty-two well-known citizens of Danville and vicinity, attended an enjoyable dinner at the Danville Country Club last night.

After the dinner and an exceptionally earnest thoughtful and lofty presentation of the situation presented by the recent failure of citizens to pledge the whole $15,000, Mr. Fitzgerald received a remarkable expression of appreciation of himself and his services as a citizen and a leader in all beneficent movements in the form of the practically spontaneous subscription by about half those present of between $4,500 and $5,000. The balance of $4,500 which remained at the end of the recent drive. Many of those present increased their original subscriptions to this fund and in some instances the original donation was doubled. Without urging, the responses came from every quarter, men present dining with each other in this generous competition in public service.

So handsome was the response that before the group dispersed a large number of those present volunteered to devote half a day next Tuesday to a canvass to make up the balance of about $2,000 remaining to assure the complete consummation of the original effort. In the judgment of many present this unselfish spirit was in large measure a personal tribute to Mr. Fitzgerald and a manifestation of appreciation of a movement which he had suggested and urged the saving of this school to the city and to the cause of Christian education. Just as the French commander at the crisis of the Marne battle resolved "They shall not pass," so the participants in this drive determined and vowed "This movement shall not fail," and they made their determination good.

Mr. Fitzgerald spoke for nearly forty minutes in opening the series of talks that followed the dinner. He expressed his pride and appreciation of the acceptance of his invitation by so many busy men and then briefly traced the development of the splendid spirit which has enabled this community to attain all its worthy objectives in recent years. The history of the institution was sketched and of its rehabilitation first as a school for boys some fourteen years ago and later its rehabilitation as the Danville Military Institute, its original name and character. The series of vicissitudes and adventures in all of which the citizenship had rallied and been given in the former campaign and then the present situation was reached. The speaker was particularly clear, strong and forceful in his presentation of what failure in such an effort would mean, and then contrasted with that what the perpetration of the Institute and the projection far into future of its influence would mean for the men of Danville and for the youth of the future. With growing earnestness he reached the climax of his appeal, the logic of facts which carried conviction to the hearts and minds of his hearers. Frank Talbott took charge and in a brief appeal urged the diners to carry the work so handsomely begun by Mr. Fitzgerald and his associates to complete fruition. He had hardly taken his seat when responses began coming in. Colonel A. R. Carrington, who was in Europe when the recent drive was made, led off with a handsome subscription, announcement of which gave impetus to the enthusiasm already prevailing.

Then George A. Lea, in an earnest pledge of his interest in Christian education announced that he would double his original subscription. Others all over the room followed the example, some even subscribing twice the sum of their original contributions. In a few minutes almost all of those who had given in the former campaign repeated and others who had heretofore had no part, added liberal amounts to the swelling total. Several others also contributed briefly to the informal speaking program, including Malcolm K. Harris, who had been earnest and prominent in the rehabilitation of the institute.

Finally the gathering gave the best rising vote of thanks and appreciation of the splendid dinner they had enjoyed and testified their pleasure in being present and having a part in the achievement of the evening. Those present besides Mr. Fitzgerald were J. T. Hamilton, M. O. Nelson, J. R. Tate, W. P. Boatwright, O. S. Roach, R. C. Thompson, J. T. Car-

lin, Jr., J. I. Pritchett, Jr., H. F. Day, J. W. Bledsoe, L. B. Conway, Frank Talbott, J. A. Herman, W. H. Parker, Z. V. Johnson, J. M. Thomas, A. M. Aiken, M. K. Harris, J. W. Carter, J. D. ## D. M. I. FINALS IN THE LAST WEEK OF COMING MONTH

The thirty-second annual commencement exercises of the Danville Military Institute will take place in May when the following cadets will graduate:

Cadets Robert Allen Burton, Jr., John Bruce James and Walter Silas McMann will enter Virginia Military Institute in September and Robert Alexander, Moises Hires and William Lee Turner have selected Washington and Lee University. Cadets Hires and Lindo will enter a dental college. The other members of the class have not decided upon a college yet.

Since Col. R. A. Burton took charge of the Danville Military Institute three years ago, 56 young men have been graduated and 90 per cent of the number are attending the leading colleges and universities of this country. In this short time the school has gained a national reputation which will be a valuable asset to the new owners.

As a rule, it requires several years for a school to gain government recognition and endorsement of colleges and universities, but D. M. I. enjoys membership in the Association of Military Schools and Colleges of the United States and is on the accredited list of Western United States and a member of the Southern Schools and Colleges Association.

CALLANDS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The pupils and teachers at C. H. S. are beginning to prepare for the commencement program. On Easter Monday Miss Bernice Anne entertained quite a number of her school friends and teachers from 3 p. m. until 7. The guests were entertained by interesting games and contests. A salad course was served followed by cream. At 7 o'clock the guests took their leave declaring they had had a most enjoyable time.

There was an egg hunt given to the grades on Easter Monday the 17th. Of course the little people enjoyed this very much.

The Callands High school ball team has succeeded in winning two consecutive games from the Whitwell high school. First at C. H. S., on April 14 by a decisive victory, 18 to 11, and at W. H. S., April 20, the score being 8 to 24.

The C. H. S. boys expect to play Climax high school and Shatham high school soon.

Nearly all the tobacco growers of this section attended the co-operative rally held at Chatham Monday, April 17. It seems that the spirit of co-operative marketing is gaining ground in this section.

All the pupils are very hard at work on their essays on the subject of winning the $5 in gold offered by the W. C. T. U., also we hope to win the prize offered by the county. Every one is saying "hard work never fails."

The two literary societies met last Friday and held their regular weekly meetings. Every one seems very much interested in their work since we know it is of so much value to us. There was a very interesting play given at C. H. S. Saturday night April 22, by the music club, entitled "The Spinners' Convention," under the direction of the music teacher, Miss Elizabeth Dudley. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the club.

Kramer Child Was Slain, Is Belief

Camden Prosecutor Declares Marks on Girl's Body Found in Mud Show Foul Play.

CAMDEN, N. J., April 25.—That Ida Kramer, kidnapped Woodbury child, was murdered is the definite conclusion of Camden and Gloucester county authorities after a day of careful investigation of the mystery following the discovery of the child's body in the mud of Newton creek flats, six miles from her home, yesterday.

Miss Esther Tannenbaum, cousin of Isidore Kramer, father of the slain child, is detained in the county jail pending further investigation, but Prosecutor Wolverton is at pains to say she is not charged with any offense. Miss Tannenbaum protests her innocence and declares there is no truth in any suggestions that she and Kramer planned to go away together or that she was the cause of the estrangement of Kramer and his wife.

The couple are at the home of friends here, having closed the butcher shop in Woodbury and will remain until after the funeral of their child.

"I am absolutely convinced Ida Kramer was murdered," was the statement of Prosecutor Wolverton today. "The person who stole the child probably stunned her with blows on the head and threw her unconscious into the creek to die."

Marks of two blows, neither sufficient to cause death, but both enough to stun the girl, were found on the head. Blood clots indicated the blows were struck before the child's death.

Prosecutor Wolverton questioned the parents two hours today about an estrangement of two years ago when the husband was reported to be planning to marry his cousin.

Miss Tannenbaum took oath that she had not seen Ida for a year and a half. She denied having telephoned to Kramer and urged him to leave his wife. She was in bed when detectives summoned her, but showed no alarm.

"They tried to kill me once," the detectives say she remarked. "Now they are trying to kill me again."

As soon as Miss Tannenbaum was taken from her home, the prosecutor summoned John Heery and Robert Coursey, both of Woodbury, and De Witt Reid, a trolley car conductor, all of whom are positive Miss Tannenbaum and the child alighted from Reid's car the night the child disappeared.

They told Wolverton they last saw Miss Tannenbaum and the child walking toward the Newton creek bridge.

"We couldn't mistake," said

Reid. "She raised such a fuss when I didn't let her off at the south entrance to the New York shipyards."

"The tide was flowing in when she was seen near the Newton creek bridge," the prosecutor declared, "and her body could have been carried the mile and a half upstream to the point where it was found. It seems likely that the person seeking to quiet her—witnesses testify the child was crying on the trolley car—struck heavy blows which stunned her. The child's assailant may have become frightened or may have acted with a deliberately murderous impulse—in either case the girl was hurled into the water."

The prosecutor said Miss Tannenbaum would be questioned in regard to alibi she furnished through relatives for the night of March 25 when the girl disappeared from in front of her parents' home on Broad street, Woodbury.

Some importance attaches to an anonymous card received by Kramer several weeks ago, postmarked Atlantic City, and inscribed, "Search the creek if you would find your child."

Sheriff Guards Home Attacked By "Dry" Agents

Owner Plans Action Against Officers for Shootings—Neighbor Wounded By Prohibitionists.

FREDERICK, April 25.—The home of Frank A. Lutz, near Knoxville, around which a battle was fought early yesterday morning, when three prohibition enforcement officers from Washington attempted to search the premises for liquor, was guarded tonight by Sheriff Jones and Deputy Smith. More than half a dozen shots were fired through the front door of the house by the "dry" agents, one of which took effect in the arm of Charles E. Meyer, president and general manager of the Horsey Distilling Company.

The agents went to the home of Mr. Lutz between 1 and 2 o'clock and rapped at the door. The latter, aroused from sleep, asked who was there and received the reply "Let us in." When he refused to open the door one of the agents attempted to force an entrance.

Mr. Lutz picked up a revolver and shot through the door. The shot was answered by a fusillade from the agents as they retired. In the meantime, Mr. Lutz telephoned to his neighbor, Mr. Meyer, and the latter went to his home. A few minutes later the agents again began shooting and several more bullets went through the door.

The glass transoms and sides were shattered and one of the balls took effect in the arm of Mr. Meyer, making a slight wound. Mr. Lutz again shot from the inside, and the agents fell back.

Mr. Lutz then telephoned to Sheriff Jones, who, with Deputies Smith and Bartgis, hurried to the scene. A short distance from the house the "dry" agents joined the officers and all went to the house. Seeing the sheriff and deputies, Mr. Lutz unlocked the door and the officers and agents entered. The agents attempted to search the premises, but having no search warrant were stopped by the officers. Deputy Smith stated that the "dry" agents acted in a rough manner and swore at Mr. Lutz. The agents went to the home of Mr. Meyer and remained until yesterday, when they returned to Washington.

While neither the sheriff nor Mr. Meyer would talk about the shooting, the impression prevails that the "dry" agents acted in a high-handed manner. Mr. Meyer and Mrs. Lutz have retained Attorney Charles McMathias, and it is understood that action is being considered against the agents.

The shooting created considerable excitement in the vicinity of Knoxville and caused rumors that another raid was being made on the Horsey distillery. It is said that Mr. Lutz had no liquor in his house, and indignation is expressed against the "dry" agents, one of whom is Miss Angeline, formerly of this city, but recently employed as prohibition agent.

Mr. Lutz was not at home today and a maid at the house stated that she knew nothing about the shooting. Sheriff Jones indicated that action probably will be taken against the agents.

Angeline's Action Unwarranted
John A. Jenson, general prohibition agent, with office in Baltimore, said yesterday that he had received orders from Washington to investigate the Frederick county affair, and will go to Knoxville today to institute the probe. One Angeline, according to Mr. Jenson, is not now in the service of the federal prohibition bureau, he having been a temporary appointment. His time was up last Friday, said Mr. Jenson, and his activities in Knoxville without warrant from the Washington office.

Angeline was in this city yesterday morning, having come here to testify before Judge John C. Rose in the federal court in a case there.

HUGE MONSTER IS NOT TO BE FOUND
CHOLILA, Territory of Chubert, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Martin Sheffield's famous phyllosaurus, if it ever existed, appears to have fled to parts unknown. The expedition recently sent out from Buenos Aires under the leadership of Emilio Frey has been unable to locate the animal after many nights of watching and hunting around the lake near Esquel, where Sheffield reported he had seen such a monster.

As a last resort, Frey exploded 11 cartons of dynamite in the lake last Sunday hoping this would force the elusive pre-historic animal to the surface. This effort was without result, however, and the expedition is returning empty-handed.

It will halt at its Chubert headquarters, however, and probably soon there will make other explorations for the benefit of the Buenos Aires zoological garden before returning to Buenos Aires.

The only evidence obtained by the expedition which might support Sheffield's story of the phyllosaurus were told by the Indians encountered. They said they had seen in the lake an animal "as big as four ponches," the poncho being an Indian unit of measurement.

NOT RIGHT LAKE
BUENOS AIRES, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Professor Clementi Onelli, director of Buenos Aires zoological garden, explained tonight that the lake visited by the expedition searching for a phyllosaurus was not the same lake where Martin Sheffield asserted he had seen some unknown monster. Professor Onelli added that the expedition would move to the point Sheffield had indicated tomorrow.

According to Professor Onelli there are many lakes in the region where the expedition now is, and the one in which dynamite was exploded is called Correntoso. The Indians reported they had seen a large, strange animal in this lake. Emilio Frey, head of the expedition, said that the dynamite explosion in the lake produced no results except two water lizards which came to the surface in a cave into which the lake entered. These lizards were identical with species found in the subterranean lakes in the Tyrol Alps.

Kills His Wife and Son; Nerve Fails On Twins

HACKENSACK, N. J., April 24.—Brooding over his inability to give his family the comforts he thought they needed, Martin Ehlers, a shipyard worker, 29 years old, walked into their bedroom in an older homestead at Woodridge, near Hackensack, last night and shot and killed his wife and 7-year-old son, Walter.

Reloading his shotgun to finish the job by killing his twin children, a boy and girl 4 years old, he jammed the weapon, lost his nerve and quit the house. When he walked slowly across a field, threw the gun away and hunted for the chief marshal of the town.

"Let me have a cigarette and I'll tell you a good story, Ketschke," he said to the official.

After five minutes of effort to make Ehlers be sensible, the marshal decided to investigate. He went with Ehlers to the latter's home and found the bodies of the murdered wife and child. The twin were sleeping soundly. Ehlers was lodged in the county jail for the night, arraigned this morning and held to await grand jury action.

ARCOLA means an American Radiator in each room—no more cold rooms; no more spotty heat.

It means better health for the children, for it gives the same healthful radiator warmth that florists insist upon for their delicate flowers.

And it pays for itself in the fuel it saves.

ARCOLA Saved these Coal Dealers One-Third

"About a year ago we installed ARCOLA. Formerly we used two large stoves which required constant attention and gave us poor service. Today we have uniform heat and the saving of fuel was a revelation to us. We are not using as much coal by one-third."

THE VIRGINIA PAGEANT

A series of great moments in ye history of ye state • RICHMOND • May 22 to 28

This sketch shows how the Virginia Pageant Drama will be presented in the gigantic amphitheatre which is being constructed on Westbrook Avenue, just opposite the entrance to Bryan Park. 22,000 people will be able to see and hear this stirring drama at each performance.

See Virginia's History lived again on a mammoth stage out under the stars

Surely no person who calls Virginia "home," or who has been stirred by Virginia's history, will fail to see this gripping visualization of epoch-making history.

What a privilege to see with your own eyes those happenings of 1607—1622—1776—1812—1863, which are more dramatic than any which the mind of man could fabricate.

A forty-acre plot of ground, forming a natural "bowl," will be the scene of the Virginia Pageant. Comfortable seats are being built for 22,000 spectators. The drama will be played on a gigantic stage 150 feet wide. Admission is from $1 to $2.50.

The entire performance will be presented each of the six days—and each day there will be a different Historical Procession through the streets of Richmond.

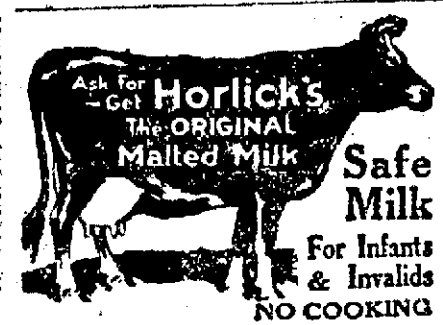

What a great week that will be! Don't let anything interfere with your plans to see the Virginia Pageant. It will be something to boast about in future years, and to miss it always will be a source of keen regret.

Address all communications regarding the Virginia Historical Pageant to Virginia Historical Pageant Association, Richmond, Va.

With organic iron, both food and Vitamine are absolutely useless, as your body cannot charge itself with food unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from the air. This oxygenated organic iron enters your blood stream and is absorbed into your blood just as the iron enters with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes through your body without doing you any good.

Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every customer of this paper a large 100 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free with the purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

Hero Friends Have Met Again!

It was over the luncheon table in Washington and not on the battle-scarred fields of France that Marshal Joffre, hero of the Marne, and General John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, met this time. They recalled amusing incidents of how an American doughboy "sold" a Yank ammunition train to a French general. Hence the smiles.

Great Northern's News Trains Unique

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 25.—On May 15 the Great Northern Limited, the crack transcontinental train of the Great Northern Railway, will start its cross-country trip from Chicago in brand new dress from engine to observation car.

The new steel equipment for the Great Northern Limited replaces the equipment built and placed in service for the Seattle-Alaska-Yukon Exposition in 1909. At that time this was the most up-to-date train operating on the north transcontinental route, and the new steel trains now takes the place of what was then regarded as the "last minute luxury in equipment."

The new steel cars have many improvements. The underframe is so constructed as to make these cars not only exceptionally strong but also resilient and easy riding. The new dining cars are finished inside in old ivory. They were fabricated in the Great Northern's car shops in St. Paul and are the first steel cars to be constructed in company owned shops anywhere in the northwest.

The upholstery of the sleeping cars is the standard Pullman design. The plumbing and lavatory fixtures are the latest pattern. The most modern heating and ventilating systems are used. The exterior of the new cars in the standard Great Northern dark green with gold lettering. The new equipment is arriving now. The first train was assembled in the Dale street shops of the Great Northern in St. Paul April 5. The first complete new steel train will leave Chicago May 15 and St. Paul May 16 and arrive in Seattle May 20.

Belasco To Star Farrar In Play

NEW YORK, April 25.—Although David Belasco has declined to discuss the "tempting plans" which Geraldine Farrar says he "whispered in her ear" before her last appearance with the Metropolitan Opera Company Saturday afternoon, it may be said on satisfactory authority that the "plans" consist of a new play to be written specially to fit Farrar's personality.

Audit for Mellon Goes On

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Another week in the long and arduous audit of the Treasury Department by the Senate Finance Committee appointed by Secretary Mellon to check the Bureau of Engraving and Printing completes its work.

Contrary to the expectation, the committee is making no effort to complete the audit completed last week with that of 1920 or 1921. While the audit will show what the new director, Charles E. Hill, is responsible for, it will also show that the way to make certain that no materials have been lost from the bureau would be to compare them with the last accounting. Hill is responsible for the new materials received and those sent out.

Lady Astor Is Asked To Visit Greensboro

RALEIGH, April 25.—Lady Astor, who is getting more publicity on this side than Jack Dempsey is on the other, has been invited to visit Greensboro next week to speak before the State Federation of Women's clubs, and Lady Astor couldn't give even a woman's reason for turning the federation down.

Mrs. Sydney P. Cooper, president of the federation, has asked Lady Astor to run over from Danville and has left the date open for her. All in the world that this American member of the British parliament has to do is to hop on the train, ride about 48 miles and speak. The federation program has been ordered for her convenience and the women in this part of the country believe that the Virginia-Britisher will accept.

If she does go to Greensboro she will make the federation the most famous of them all, for no state meeting ever has had quite such a cosmopolitan as Lady Astor. The invitation given out of fullness of Mrs. Cooper's heart carries that perfect condition for the invited as makes refusal unlikely. It will take some hall to hold her if she accepts the Greensboro call.

Quarrels With Father, Then Attempts Suicide

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Following an altercation with her father today, Bertha Febray, 38, of Hogers-town, Md., attempted suicide by drinking poison and walking into Cobb's Creek.

Two youths saw her floating in the water and went in after her. The water of the creek is shallow at this point, and they pulled her out.

She was in a dazed condition after the boys had rescued her. She was taken to the University hospital, where physicians revived her, and report she is not in a serious condition. She was held at the hospital, however for observation.

Upon being questioned by the police she asserted she wanted to die because she had a quarrel with her father.

Nuptial Kiss Broadcast

NEW YORK, April 25.—A nuptial kiss, planted 5,000 feet in the clouds above Times Square, was broadcast from the cockpit of a speeding airplane to the ears of thousands of radio fans late yesterday when Miss Sarah Cokelair, Brooklyn nurse, and Albert P. Schaske, athletic director of the Veterans' Mountain Camp, became bride and bridegroom.

Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, the Flying Parson, performed the ceremony. Lieut. Bert Acosta piloted the party in a Fokker "half moon" biplane. Each detail of the ceremony except the blush was transmitted to radio fans by apparatus on the plane. When the ceremony was over, Mr. and Mrs. Schaske started their honeymoon by scattering over New York programmes of the Spring Flying Show to be held at Curtiss Field next Sunday.

Today the couple will go by air to Albany, Schenectady, Syracuse and Niagara Falls.

—Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley Pollok, who have been visiting in Greenville, S. C., and Atlanta, Ga., have returned home.

—Mrs. David Garvin and son have returned from a two months' visit to Jacksonville, Fla.

Flooded River Is Still a Problem

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25.—Traffic on the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad between Greenville and Vicksburg, Miss., was ordered suspended today on account of the rising backwaters in the Yazoo Valley, which have covered the tracks at a number of places. Traffic on other rail lines on both sides of the river is not affected, except on a few short branches. Reports tonight from every levee district between Cairo and Greenville, Miss., are that the embankments are holding safely and engineers are confident that they will be able to prevent a break with the water now in sight in the river.

3,000 ARE HOMELESS

ST. LOUIS, April 25.—More than 3,500 persons are homeless and at least 1500 homes in the Trinity Valley between Arlington Heights and Ft. Worth, Texas, are inundated according to advices received by the Southwestern division of the American Red Cross here tonight.

SERIOUS SLOUGH

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 25.—A serious sough appeared in the Mississippi levee between Eyring and Buckridge about 11 miles above Newellton, La., today. A crack of about 40 feet long with clear water showing developed. The threatening condition caused great apprehension for a time, and men were pushed from adjacent points to combat the trouble. Late reports from Newellton stated that the levee is now in a satisfactory condition.

RIVER IS RISING

NEW ORLEANS, April 25.—The Mississippi river rose one-tenth of a foot here today, the gauge standing at 22.6 feet. The previous high record here was 22 feet in 1912. A maximum of 23.4 feet has been predicted by May 15 to 20.

Official reports of satisfactory levee conditions continued to come in to federal, state and parish levee engineers today. Topping and blanketing of low embankments was in progress throughout the day all along the lines, but flood control agencies declared no serious difficulties had been encountered at any point.

WOODROW WILSON FOUNDATION

The campaign for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation faces failure throughout the entire nation. Efforts have been made for months to raise one million dollars or more, and no state to date has raised its quota. Minnesota leads with 70 per cent of its quota raised. Virginia stands about midway with about 50 per cent subscribed.

The opportunity for Virginia and Virginians to save this great movement is apparent. Virginia can be the first state to raise its quota and thus give a great impetus and new life to the campaign throughout the nation. Mr. Wilson is a Virginian and Virginia is a Democratic state. There is every reason why she should be first. Danville has the opportunity to be the first large city in Virginia to subscribe its quota, but this cannot be accomplished unless the appeal meets with a more popular response. If you and three hundred and ninety-nine others will today send in your check for $2.00 to T. Jeff Bass, treasurer, the feat will have been accomplished and the movement closed with Danville over the top again.

The following subscription was received today:
Mrs. W. W. Williamson ..... $10.00
Previously reported ..... 165.00
Total ..... $175.00

Movie Actress Is Barred From Church

NASHUA, N. H., April 25.—Virginia Pearson, motion-picture actress, who was to have spoken at the First Baptist church last night, was prevented at the last minute by the deacons. They instructed the pastor to announce that the action was for "the good of the church."

A crowd that filled the auditorium for the first time in its history had appeared to hear Miss Pearson tell of "efforts to raise the moral standard of the stage." She said afterward that she was invited to speak by the pastor, adding that the action of the deacons was "apparently the work of people who think that actors and actresses are damned forever."

Discuss Flying Problems That Have Been Hard

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Aeronautical problems which have baffled the best minds of the scientific world are being solved with marked success through experiments in the laboratories at Langley Field, Va., under the direction of the national advisory committee for aeronautics. Joseph A. Ames, chairman of the executive committee, declared today in an address at the concluding session of the National Academy of Sciences.

There are three outstanding problems in aeronautics, Dr. Ames said, those involving the discovery of a suitable fuel for the gasoline engine, determination of the shape and section of a wing which will improve the performance of an airplane and the replacement of the ordinary experiment in models of airplanes or their parts by a method giving complete information concerning full sized machines.

One result of the experiments, Dr. Ames explained, is the satisfactory modification of the Liberty engine which will enable it to function by an injection of oil. This is done by increasing the size of the piston, in order to produce a suitable compression. Air is then admitted, rapidly compressed, thus raising the temperature sufficiently to ignite the oil which is admitted as a jet. The advantages derived from this modification it was said, were smaller weight of oil requirement and small cost and diminution of fire risk.

Dr. Ames further declared that investigations concerning airplane winged resulted in the development of a wing which offered marked advantage over all now in use. Both aerodynamically and structurally, and that under the direction of the committee, the Newport News Shipbuilding Company had just completed a large steel tank of wind tunnel which was believed to be the largest in the world in which are to be tested in the future models of airplanes and their parts. All the balances and apparatus in this tunnel he said, work automatically and readings are taken through small windows. The results obtained through this new apparatus, he further declared, would open an entirely new field in aerodynamics.

Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and Chester Stock, of the University of California, discussed the recovery some years ago of the bones of the accumulation of perfectly preserved remains of extinct animals in asphalt in the vicinity of Los Angeles. These discoveries, the speaker asserted, furnished some of the most interesting data on the history of life, thus far secured in America.

A similar accumulation "representing an assemblage of animals of a somewhat different type was said to have recently been investigated on the western border of the Great Valley of California. Remains of a wide variety of higher animals and birds were found at this new locality," he said, the collection representing the geological period immediately preceding the present. This, it was said, offered the best opportunity thus far known to the study of life of this geological stage under the conditions obtaining in the Great Valley.

Weeks Makes Plea For Bigger Army To Insure Peace

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A plea for a national military policy which could assure the checking of aggression by foreign powers in its inception and which would avoid "confusion, disorder, delay and extravagance" when emergencies arise, was made today by Secretary Weeks and General Pershing before a Senate committee in the support of the war equipment program for an army of 300,000 officers and 150,000 enlisted men.

The statements by the two army leaders concluded the public discussions of the annual army supply bill and the appropriations committee has in charge of it will begin immediately.

Mrs. Mattie Crawford calls herself a "laundress of souls." She is starting on a nation-wide evangelistic tour from Chicago, following campaigns in Canada and Mexico.

"Laundress Of Souls"

Lady Astor Pays Tribute to Stone

NEW YORK, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lady Astor told leading editors and publishers of the United States today at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press that America would yet join the conference at Genoa.

"I believe America can show the way to peace," she exclaimed fervently amid a gale of applause. "The conference to Genoa was but one of a score of subjects touched upon by the Virginia-born member of the British House of Commons in a breezy address on mother-love and practical politics that held the close attention of the auditor in the grand ball room of the Waldorf Astoria. Her audience was mostly men, although the boxes in the gallery were filled with women."

Lady Astor seemed perfectly at home from the moment she tripped jauntily into the room to the strains of "Dixie." She joined in the singing of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," shouted her "hear," when her husband, Viscount Astor, spoke briefly and mounted a chair and waved "good bye" at the conclusion of the luncheon.

She digressed considerably from her prepared address, touching at random on such topics as Lord George, bolshevism, labor and capital, the power of the press, a closer understanding between England and the United States.

She proudly said she was a "Virginia patriot and a proud one." "This patriot," she said, had stood her well, "because it has proven to England that the real patriot can be useful in any country, and a narrow, bigoted patriotism is no use to any country."

She stopped to apologize for her recent remarks against the bonus, saying:

"I forgot I was a British member of Parliament, and I spoke to you as a people," she said, "but perhaps these people are not fifty-fifty like I am."

Touching on politics, she said: "I suppose many of you are desperately set against women coming into politics and I don't blame you. I am sorry for you, I think sooner or later you will see that we are perfectly right to want to come into public life."

In discussing the press she said: "The press of a country is a little different from ambassadors. We send our ambassadors and they can interpret their governments; but the press can even go further. They can interpret the different people. And that is why the Associated Press has been, I think, really one of the greatest agents for progress that we have known in our generation. You can realize how great that responsibility is. I do not want to flatter the press. I do not really like to flatter anyone."

"But I think the whole world should know what it owes to Mr. Melville E. Stone," she said, "the Associated Press, and for many years its general manager. His vision created you, and when he died, I think he died with an old negro cook down in Virginia says I did. When I showed her a photograph of my home in England, she said, 'Tolair to goodness, Mrs. Nancy, you just out-married yourself.' That is what Mr. Melville Stone did. He just out-thought himself. But his vision is going to lead to a better world and a better understanding among all countries."

"I know a good deal about The Associated Press, because I have seen it in England, and it is not what I think about it that counts; it is what the representative people think about it. I have heard men in the very highest positions in England say, 'well, if that is The Associated Press, let them in. We can tell them anything, as much as you could a cabinet minister, because they always play the game.'"

"Gentlemen, it is up to you," she continued, "the two greatest forces in the world for peace and civilization are mothers and the press. Ours is the greater task. Our children are going to be what we mothers make them and although you hear a lot about the American mothers, I feel that the press sometimes loses its head about flappers and modern mothers and things like that. Perhaps they are lacking headlines. I am not disturbed about the modern mother any more than I am about the modern press."

"Now will you let me speak as a Virginian and not as a British member of Parliament. It is true we are getting a Washington help a lot. We can thank God for Washington. But we had better pray God about Genoa."

"Now I want to speak as a Virginian. If I ought not to do it, tell me so. I am lame tomorrow in your own papers."

"I wish from the bottom of my heart that America was at Genoa. I want America to be at Genoa because I believe that we in America can show all countries the quickest way to peace after the war."

"America will go to Europe yet, because I think she will see she has got to go. She will have to go because the whole of the earth looks to America for a model."

"The whole of the world needs America. You say, 'Well, there is no parallel in Europe.' No, it may not be a parallel, but the panacea is the same in all countries. You can only overcome evil with good."

DIRECTORS ELECTED

At the annual meeting, the following directors were re-elected for one year: Clark Howell, Atlanta (Georgia); Constitution, V. S. McClary, Sacramento (California); Bee; Charles Hopkins Clark, Hartford (Connecticut); Courant; Charles A. Rock, Pittsburgh (Pennsylvania); Dispatch; Elbert H. Baker, Cleveland (Ohio); Plain Dealer.

E. Lansing Ray, of the St. Louis (Missouri) Globe Democrat was elected a director to fill the unexpired term of D. E. Town of the Louisville (Kentucky) Herald. His term expired in 1924.

The following boards and committees were named:

Advisory boards: Southern division: H. C. Adair, Chattanooga, (Tennessee); Times, Chattanooga, (Tennessee); Louisville (Kentucky) Post, secretary: B. Johnson, Knoxville (Tennessee); Sentinel; Frank B. Shuts, Miami (Fla.); Herald; E. W. Barrett, Birmingham (Alabama); J. G. Bell, Savannah (Georgia); News; J. S. Cohen, Atlanta (Georgia) Journal.

Auditing committees: James M. Thompson, New Orleans (Louisiana) Item, Secretary.

the facts before the grand jury and demand an investigation," McCain declared.

"This decision is based on a report made to me by John J. Lyden, field supervisor and a member of the levee board for the last 12 years, in which he declared he had men paroling the levee all Monday night and all day Tuesday, and that it was his opinion that the levee was dynamited."

Democrats Again Attack Tariff In Senate Debate

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Increased duties on drugs, dyes, inks and paints, proposed in the administration tariff bill can be traced today from Senate Democrats in the second day of general debate on the measure.

Reviewing the rates in the first schedule of the Senate King, Democrat, Utah, said the increase proposed ranged from 150 to 500 per cent; presented statistics to show that imports of the commodities under discussion were negligible, and charged that the result of enactment of the proposed duties would be to increase the "already swollen fortunes of drug and chemical manufacturers at the expense of the American people."

Attacking what he characterized as the "drug monopoly," Senator King declared that it had circulated which he charged that it had circulated to mislead the American people for the purpose of having erected the embargo which it succeeded in obtaining. In this connection he warned corporations and business men generally that unless they resisted the consuming public fairly the people would "rise upon their wrath and pull down the temple of their business."

Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, served notice on the Senate that there would be votes on each of the hundreds of rates in the bill.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, offered a resolution calling on the tariff commission for information as to the result of the opinion of the emergency tariff bill. He asked for immediate consideration, but Senator Smoot objected, saying it could be acted upon tomorrow without displacing the tariff bill.

"We were told," said Senator Harrison, "that the emergency tariff was to be the panacea for all agricultural ills. We know that that was largely a buncombe. The tariff commission has gathered the facts and Congress and the country are entitled to know what they are. The facts will help in a wise consideration of this bill."

It is unlawful to play billiards in a public place on Sunday, Christmas Day or Good Friday in England.

TUCKER REQUESTS COPY OF TREATY FOR THE HOUSE

(By GEORGE H. MANNING.)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A resolution, requesting the president to send to the House a copy of the four-power treaty and such explanatory papers as may be necessary for a proper understanding of it, was introduced in the House today by Representative Harry St. George Tucker.

The House is expected to take up for consideration Thursday legislation providing for the scrapping of several American warships under the provisions of the four-power treaty. Mr. Tucker contends that inasmuch as the treaty requires action by Congress, and it cannot be carried out without the specific authority from Congress, the president should have transmitted a copy of the treaty to the House, where the necessary legislation must originate.

Some weeks ago when there was uncertainty in Congress as to whether the American warships could be scrapped under the treaty provisions without direct authority from Congress, Mr. Tucker, who is a recognized authority on the constitution and the treaty-making powers appeared before the House naval committee and presented an argument that direct authority from Congress is essential.

Seventeen Dead Toll Of Flood At Fort Worth, Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 25.—Seventeen probably dead and property damage estimated at approximately one million dollars is the toll of a flood which swept Ft. Worth early today, carrying before it scores of residences and small buildings, overflowing hundreds of acres of land and inundating several city streets.

The estimate of 17 dead was made by Maj. L. G. White, in charge of the Red Cross relief. The flood was confined chiefly to the lowlands adjoining the tributaries of the Trinity River, Marine, Sycamore, Clearfork creeks and the Trinity river were swollen, overflowing the bottoms nearby.

The flood is the most severe in the history of the city, according to old time residents. Trinity said at 10:15 feet at noon today was still rising. The gauge measured only seven feet yesterday. With the break of the East First street levee late today, it was believed the water on being released would spread out, losing some of its force.

Coming on the heels of rain, the heaviest in the history of Ft. Worth, and a wind and electrical storm, the flood took scores of people by surprise. The lowlands adjoining the Trinity River were the first to suffer and at one time water was standing level with the roofs of residences.

Word reaching here tonight from points north of Ft. Worth indicate that a further rise of the water is expected. Rescue workers are laboring tirelessly in bringing relief to flood sufferers.

With boiler rooms of the city power and light plant flooded, residential areas are being cut off from electricity. No drinking water has been available since early this morning.

With the city facing a night of darkness, 500 members of the American legion were patrolling the streets, augmenting the city police force. Many highways were covered with water cutting off traffic.

LEVEES DYNAMITED

John J. McCain, for Ft. Worth city engineer, issued a statement tonight in which he declared that the levees around the rivers, which broke here early today and flooded lowlands of this city were dynamited by unknown parties, and that an investigation by a grand jury would be demanded immediately.

"It is our opinion that the levee did not break of its own accord, but was dynamited and as soon as the situation is relieved we are going to place

Seventeen Dead Toll Of Flood At Fort Worth, Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 25.—Seventeen probably dead and property damage estimated at approximately one million dollars is the toll of a flood which swept Ft. Worth early today, carrying before it scores of residences and small buildings, overflowing hundreds of acres of land and inundating several city streets.

The estimate of 17 dead was made by Maj. L. G. White, in charge of the Red Cross relief. The flood was confined chiefly to the lowlands adjoining the tributaries of the Trinity River, Marine, Sycamore, Clearfork creeks and the Trinity river were swollen, overflowing the bottoms nearby.

The flood is the most severe in the history of the city, according to old time residents. Trinity said at 10:15 feet at noon today was still rising. The gauge measured only seven feet yesterday. With the break of the East First street levee late today, it was believed the water on being released would spread out, losing some of its force.

Coming on the heels of rain, the heaviest in the history of Ft. Worth, and a wind and electrical storm, the flood took scores of people by surprise. The lowlands adjoining the Trinity River were the first to suffer and at one time water was standing level with the roofs of residences.

Word reaching here tonight from points north of Ft. Worth indicate that a further rise of the water is expected. Rescue workers are laboring tirelessly in bringing relief to flood sufferers.

With boiler rooms of the city power and light plant flooded, residential areas are being cut off from electricity. No drinking water has been available since early this morning.

With the city facing a night of darkness, 500 members of the American legion were patrolling the streets, augmenting the city police force. Many highways were covered with water cutting off traffic.

LEVEES DYNAMITED

John J. McCain, for Ft. Worth city engineer, issued a statement tonight in which he declared that the levees around the rivers, which broke here early today and flooded lowlands of this city were dynamited by unknown parties, and that an investigation by a grand jury would be demanded immediately.

"It is our opinion that the levee did not break of its own accord, but was dynamited and as soon as the situation is relieved we are going to place

EIGHT

Children Murdered

(By N. E. A. Service.)

HOUSTON, Tex., April 25.—Y. S. Mathis, 15, grandfather of the three children found dead in their beds here with four open gas jets in the room, is being held by police.

The children were Elizabeth, 8, William, 3, and Morace, 6.

The grandfather denies any knowledge of the crime.

"I am innocent. I want to be released so I can help run down the murderers," he says.

Police have been conferring frequently with the mother of the children, who was not at home when the tragedy occurred but who reached Houston 24 hours later.

With the aid of three small children, officials re-enacted the killing in the presence of Mathis. He averted his head each time the children came within the range of his vision.

Officials declare that if he had been asleep at the time of the crime, as he says, the gas fumes would have killed him, as the door between his room and that occupied by the children was found ajar.

GOES INTO CHURCH TO REPENT, BUT PICKS THE POCKET OF WORSHIPER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 25.—Convicted on a charge of picking the pocket of John C. Rocko while the latter was kneeling at prayer, John Burns today was sentenced to serve three months in jail.

Burns said he had been drinking and had gone into the church "to repent."

WOULD BAR HAWAIIAN

HONOLULU, April 25.—(Associated Press)—Varnish does not mix with an amateur swimming standing according to the national amateur athletic union which has just requested the Hawaiian A. A. U. to declare Duke P. Kahamoku, world's champion sprint swimmer a professional as the result of Duke's published endorsement of a certain brand of floor and furniture covering.

"Pay-for-Your-Talk" Phones Cut Chatter

(By N. E. A. Service.)

EVERETT, Wash., April 25.—Frustrated telephone conversations carried on by the love-lorn are passing here.

For phone talk is a commodity, measured and charged for just like gas, water and electricity. All telephones in the city are on meters, and charges are on a "pay-for-what-you-talk" basis.

While Everett folks do their phoning with an eye on the meter, the rest of the country is watching with interest the outcome of the 60-day experiment.

It is expected to be adopted all over the United States to meet the necessity for a more equitable rate for telephone conversations.

The telegraphometer is the instrument looked to for the improvement in service. It is the invention of Major Garrison Babcock, Seattle telephone engineer, who was a signal corps officer during the war.

Through measurement of telephone service, company officials declare they will reduce the cost to 85 per cent of the subscribers, as well as add a third more subscribers.

Much of this additional business will be added without material increase of telephone equipment, it is contended, as elimination of frivolous and unnecessary gossip will increase popularity of six, eight and ten party lines.

The State public service commission has agreed to a 60-day test schedule, giving party-line service for $1 a month, which entitles the subscriber to 50 "telephones" or an hour of service monthly. Use of 100 "telephones" will cost the subscriber $1.40.

Mills Advertise For Help In Vain

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 25.—"Help Wanted" signs again are appearing on the gates of steel mills in the Youngstown district. Plant executives explained today that the shortage of semi-skilled labor for the rolling mills has become acute.

Mills in Niles and Warren are advertising for sheet workers. Resumption of a sheet mill of the Brier Hill Steel Company is said to have been prevented by shortage of this class of labor. Common labor is plentiful, the operators say.

Would Fine Church Slackers in Britain

LONDON, April 25.—The alternative of going to church on Sunday or paying a fine is suggested by the Rev. Robt. Forman Horton, one of England's most noted Nonconformist ministers, as a means of raising revenue to run the country without plunging it into bankruptcy. Such legislation he declares would net $6,000,000 pounds a year.

Flying Boat With Six Persons Aboard Missing

MIAMI, Fla., April 25.—Grave doubt exists tonight as to the fate of the flying boat Santa Maria, which left Key West Monday morning for Nassau with six persons aboard her, and has not been heard from since. Searching planes were sent out this morning, but returned tonight without having touched a trace of the missing craft. It is believed that the Santa Maria was disabled at sea, but there is no conjecture as to where she may have been forced down.

The Santa Maria left Key West at 8 o'clock Monday morning for Nassau to bring back to Miami C. A. Schiller, a pilot of Aeromarine Corporation, owners of the Santa Maria, who was attacked and seriously injured by Nassau thugs last Friday.

Schiller has been unconscious ever since, and the Santa Maria, when she sailed from Key West carried Dr. Eugene A. Lowes Leslie, A. Curry, a pharmacist, both of that city, and a woman nurse from Havana, to attend him. Pilots Ed Musick and E. C. Richardson flew the ship.

The Santa Maria was due in Miami at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and when at dusk she had not appeared, tracer messages were sent out. This morning it was definitely learned that the flying boat had never reached Nassau.

Aeromarine officials at Key West immediately sent out the ship Ponce De Leon, to comb the waters. Commander Albert Read, who arrived here yesterday with a fleet of naval seaplanes from Guantanamo bay ordered one of them to join the search.

At 8:30 tonight the naval plane returned from all-day flight along the coast and out over the keys to report that it had sighted nothing. A little later George Cobb, pilot of the Ponce De Leon, wireless from Nassau that he had covered the islands and had failed to sight the Santa Maria.

Commander Read tonight was preparing to send out his whole fleet of nine navy torpedo planes in the morning, provided the wind permits. Fast speed boats all along the coast from Miami to Key West also will be mobilized to join the search.

This Man's Name Hisses; Court Clerk Finds Way

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 25.—A long court record is expected to be completed soon with a decision in the appeal of a Siamese reformer to Los Angeles court clerk afflicted with writers' cramp as "Mr. Sodafountain," who is charged with arson. His correct name is Lieussucussussussurruizissiziziz.

Lions Club of Roanoke, Receives Its Charter

ROANOKE, April 25.—At a banquet at Hotel Roanoke tonight the Roanoke Lions Club received its charter at the hands of Melvin Jones, national secretary, District President P. T. of Norfolk, introduced him, and Edward T. Shetter and O. B. Barker, Jr., of Lynchburg Lions Club, and Fred Fox, president Bluefield Lions Club, spoke words of felicitation for their clubs. The national convention of Lions clubs will be held in Hot Springs, Ark., June 19 to 23.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

The regular meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon club will be held in the club rooms at the Memorial Union this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. H. C. Picklen will lecture and each member may invite a guest.

This is the last meeting before the annual frolic, and as there will be important announcements in regard to the entertainment it is important that as many members as possible be present.

Actresses Depict Evolution Of Period Styles

Sovieters Who "Tricked" Lloyd George and Allies

LARGEST SHIP IN THE WORLD IS NEW "WIESTIC"

BERLIN, April 25.—"The Blismarck," which has been handed over to the representatives of the White Star Line, is not only the largest but at the same time the most sumptuous and probably also the swiftest passenger ship of the world.

That was the tenor of an interview given by Ewald Artus, who as the representative of the German government supervised the finishing of the ocean giant.

"Of course, it has been a bitter task for us to prepare the surrender of this ship which was destined to be the glory of Germany's shipping trade," said Artus. "But I am proud to state, that nevertheless all of us did our duty in the most loyal manner. The future 'Majestic' is equipped in exactly the same way as if it had been for the Hamburg-America line for which it was originally intended."

"The work on board the 'Blismarck,' which had been launched in the spring of 1914, was completely stopped at the beginning of the war and has only been resumed two years ago. The mammoth steamer is 212.5 meters long—one more than the former 'Vaterland'—30.5 broad, 19.5 meters high from the bottom to the upper deck. The draught when loaded is 19.52 meters (35 feet); the tonnage amounts to 56,000 tons; 48 water pine boilers supply the steam for the four turbines, which act directly on the four screws. The boilers are heated by oil firing which almost develops no smoke. The oil employed is a very tough Mexican oil which, when stored, is so consistent that it has to be cut with spades and cannot explode. The system of the double bottom divided into carefully calculated cells offers a further element of security.

The inner outfitting and accommodations in the three classes can hardly be surpassed. The arrangements for the 700 first-class passengers are the most sumptuous that could possibly be imagined. The dining room, covering 1,050 square meters and possessing a beautiful cupola, painted by Professor Kolmberger, of the Munich cadamers, is finished in white. It offers room for all the passengers, so that no second dinner has to be served.

"The smoking room is furnished with dark oak and the walls are covered with leather. The hall (for dancing) is remarkable for its beautiful deep carving of massive oak wood. The restaurant is finished in Honduras mahogany, enlivened by gold ornaments. A wonderful staircase leading through five decks is finished with precious iron work and the walls are decorated with copies of famous German paintings executed by the Hamburgian painter, Professor Koeltz.

"Quite remarkable, too, is the swimming hall. The ceiling, lighted from within, gives the illusion of the sky, and bottom lights within the basin make the water look almost supernaturally transparent."

"As the crew amounts to 1,500 men the ship will carry altogether nearly 6,000 persons. The ship costs approximately two billion marks."

CIRCUS COMPETES WITH COURT AS ATTRACTION AT THE TRIAL OF HUNDREDS OF OF MINERS IN HISTORIC CHARLES TOWN

Every man in this group of coal miners, snapped before the courthouse at Charles Town, W. Va., is under indictment for treason, murder or other charges growing out of the armed march last August of union coal miners from Kenawha county to Logan county, W. Va. The miners, through their counsel protest they are innocent.

BY C. C. LYON
CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., April 26—The main street of this pretty little town in the mountains of eastern West Virginia is jammed from morning till night with autos, buses, and drays.

The narrow sidewalks are made almost impassable by hundreds of men standing about with pink ribbons floating from their coat lapels. Street fakers bark their wares. Members of the Chamber of Commerce and old residents bustle about with badges that tell they are members of the "Reception Committee." Numerous signs point the way to the "Bureau of Information" or the "Rooms to Let" headquarters. Hotels and stores, taxi drivers and bootblacks, movies and soda fountains haven't enjoyed such prosperity in years.

Like a Convention
 Every surface indication tells that Charles Town is entertaining a convention of some kind. But it isn't. The majority of its "guests" are the hundreds of union coal miners from the opposite end of the State—nearly 400 miles away—who are on trial for murder and treason in connection with their armed march into Logan county last August and September.

The pink badges they wear have printed on them "United Mine Workers of America-Defendant." That's so they can distinguish one another and be distinguished from the hundreds of others who are here for their trial—witnesses, lawyers, coal operators, mine guards, private police, deputies, federal agents, and bootleggers. The only reason Jefferson county, of which Charles Town is the county seat, was selected for their trials is that it hasn't a coal mine within its confines and is farthest removed from the armed march.

Charles Town is quite overcome with the notoriety it is getting—and the thousands of dollars of outside money that is going into its cash register every day.

Many descendants of Charles and Samuel Washington, brothers of George Washington live here and dominate about everything—business, society, agriculture, and the professions.

They're prominent on all the committees that are looking after the welfare of the miners and others who are here for the trials. There's William E. Packette, for instance, a great-grandson of Samuel Washington.

The very spot where John Brown, "liberator of slaves," was hanged on December 2, 1859, after being sentenced to death in the very same courthouse where the miners are now being tried, is in Packette's yard.

It was down Washington street, the principal thoroughfare of the town, that General Phil Sheridan dashed on his famous 20-mile ride.

James and Dolly Madison were married here. And now another great chapter in history is being written here.

Circus Is Coming
 And a circus is coming to Charles Town. Every billboard has a crowd about it, the miners gazing with open-eyed wonder on the brightly-colored lithographs.

Judge Woods, who is trying the cases, has been advised he'd better adjourn court the afternoon the circus is here as otherwise there will certainly be a shortage of defendants and witnesses.

In the courthouse (on the right) at Charles Town, W. Va., where John Brown was sentenced to hang in 1859, several hundred coal miners are being tried for treason, murder and other charges growing out of the armed march on Logan county last summer. Above are the miners' defense attorneys. Left to right, James Mason, Jr., L. P. Hager, H. W. Houston (chief counsel), Charles J. Van Fleet, T. C. Townsend.

Piedmont League Race Starts Today

The Piedmont League season opens today.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the "play ball" by umpires in baseball parks of three cities will see the beginning of the race for the pennant by the six clubs which comprise the Piedmont League. Danville plays the opening game in High Point, Durham at Raleigh and Greensboro at Winston-Salem.

Abbott's aggregation will leave for High Point this morning about 9 o'clock and will travel by automobiles through the country. Two machines will be used in taking the players. Owner Hatcher will accompany them. It is the plan of the management to resort to this method the entire season with the intention of saving a large amount in railway mileage.

Manager Abbott seemed in the best of spirits last night, as did every member of his team. He announced his line-up for today's game as follows: Regan, cf.; Smith, 2b.; Worth, 1b.; Trexler, rf.; Holmes, cf.; Duffy, 3b.; Marcotte or Quinn, ss.; Abbott, c.; Atkinson, p.; with Pitcher Green held in reserve.

Pitcher Atkinson, one of the local best twirlers was selected to do the best work in the opening game while Manager Herndon, of the Furniture Makers, is expected to select "Rube" Elbridge for the initial contest.

A large number of baseball fans are expected to go to High Point to witness the opening game this afternoon. Many who own autos have been heard to say that they intend going over and a large representation of Danville rooters will be on hand to cheer the Tobaccoists in their battle with the Furniture makers.

Manager Abbott's choice for the pitching of the second game of the series Thursday is Harris, it was announced last night.

After the two games, the Tobaccoists will return for an engage Friday and Saturday for the first home game. Abbott stated last night that Rodgers will twirl the opening contest in Danville, which is eagerly awaited by the local fans. He had not decided definitely just who would do the box work Saturday.

The locals will begin next week by playing Greensboro here for two days, making four straight games for Danville at home.

Shortstop Quinn, mentioned in the line-up above, arrived yesterday from Harrisburg, Pa., and is already in condition to go into the game. He is recommended as an excellent shortstop and a good hitter. Probably he and Marcotte both will be used in today's game.

Catcher Beamenderfer and Pitcher Bowers have been given their releases. It is understood that Bowers has joined the Schoolfield club in the Bi-State League. Manager Abbott now has eight pitchers from which to select his permanent twirling staff. They are: Atkinson, Harris and Rodgers, who were with Danville last year and Green, Gibson, Easter and Magalis.

First baseman Worth's injury to his hand has healed sufficiently for him to be able to participate in today's game while Bashore, the hard hitting right fielder, remains at the General Hospital where it is thought he is forced to remain for treatment for several days yet. "Ducky" Holmes, catcher and utility man, who joined the locals Monday is taking Bashore's place in the right field position.

"Ducky" comes here with an excellent record and should prove a valuable addition to the club.

WANT BRYAN AT S. S. CONVENTION

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 25—After considering protests against the withdrawal of an invitation to William J. Bryan to speak at the International Sunday school convention at Kansas City next June the full convention late tonight referred the matter to the program committee which meets here tomorrow. Whether the invitation would be resound depended entirely upon action of the program committee, it was said tonight. Besides telegraphic protests against the withdrawal of the invitation, a delegation from Kansas City appeared before the committee to urge that Mr. Bryan be retained in the program. Headed by Dr. Fletcher Homan, the Kansas Cityans said they believed Mr. Bryan's address would be worthwhile and thought that "in view of the publicity that has been given the matter" the removal of his name from the program would be misunderstood and misinterpreted.

THE doors, woodwork, floors and furniture are constantly having their finish scratched and marred. You can't help it. And it's surprising how little it takes to detract from the beauty of your home. But most of that beauty is surface deep and is astonishingly easy to restore. All you need is a can of Tufcote and a brush.

Tufcote—the Du Pont Household Varnish Stain—dries over night and can be applied easily by anyone. It stains and varnishes in one operation. Dries quickly and gives a beautiful finish—and the finish lasts. We sell it in six beautiful wood colors. Stop in and try a can.

First to establish the $10.90 price "Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3 1/2 'Usco' is $10.90." The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires. It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

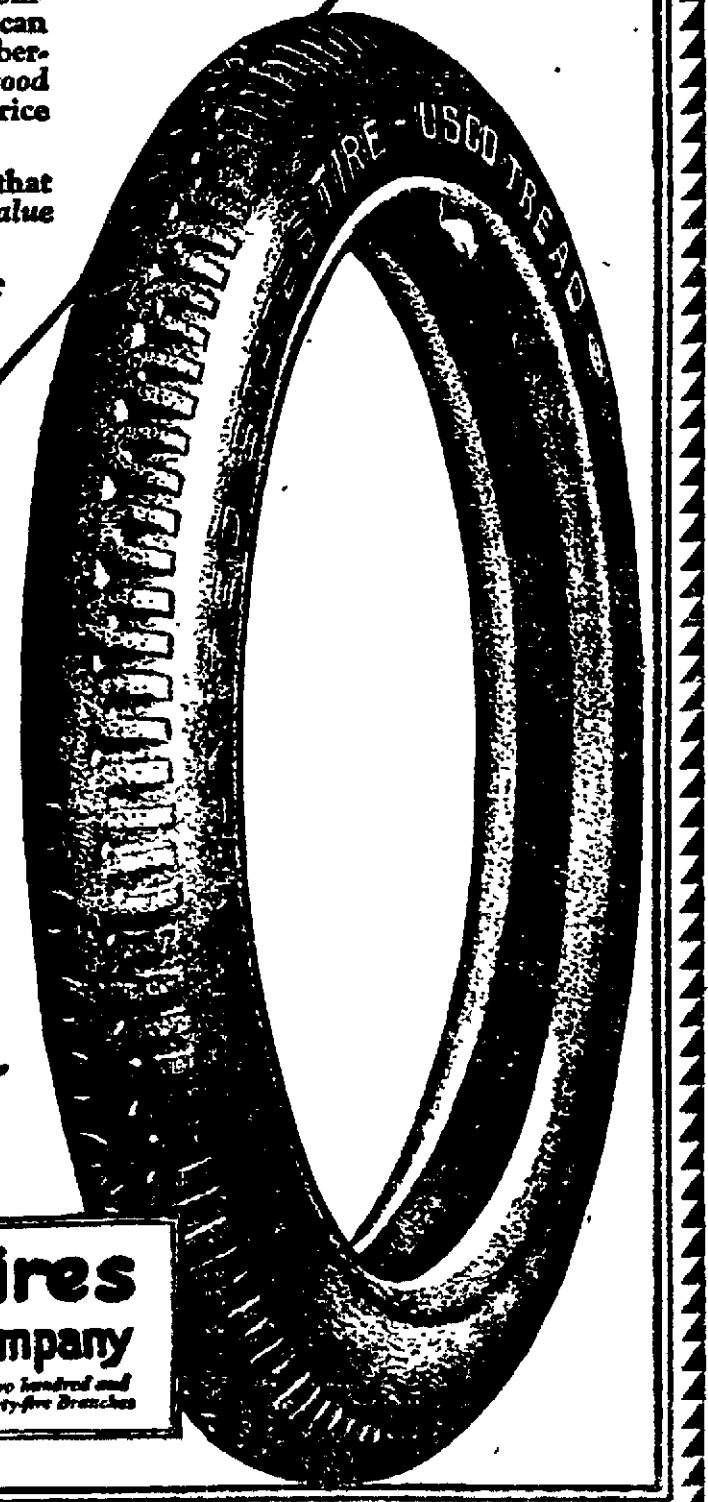

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in tune with the times.

TRIAL OF W. VA. MINERS BEGINS AT CHARLESTOWN

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 25—(By the Associated Press)—William Blizard, union official, sometimes spoken of as "General of the march against Logan," but denying that he took any part in the August, 1921, disorders, will go to trial for treason tomorrow in the circuit court of Jefferson county. That was the result of a day replete with legal questions during which Judge J. M. Woods gave a long decision overruling the demurrer of defendants in the "march" cases against the treason charges, separate trial and the selection of Blizard as the first defendant were then provided for.

Each step in today's procedure was accomplished only after earnest and hard fought argument by some of the most brilliant minds represented in the bar of the State, arrayed a hail down on each side, and the entangling of difficult and frequently unusual questions of law and practice fell to Judge Woods' lot for the most careful consideration throughout the sessions.

When court convened for its second day, Judge Woods had not completed the study of law and precedent necessary to making his decision. He immediately adjourned court until afternoon.

The greater part of his decision was devoted to discussion of the same contention that the indictment was too general and in finding against this contention he ruled that some of the intent and overt acts alleged in the indictment were of such a nature that he would overrule the demurrer. Exception of the defense to his ruling was noted on the record.

The most brisk interplay of argument between counsel followed an announcement of the defense that the 23 men out of those charged with treason, whose cases came into this court on charge of venue, elected to be tried separately. Foreman W. Brown, a local attorney associated with the prosecution, asked that all the defendants enter their pleas. T. C. Townsend, one of the defendants' attorneys, countered with a demand that the State first elect which man it would try, requiring only that one

SPECIAL AGENT DISMISSED FOR GOOD REASONS

WASHINGTON, April 25—W. O. Watts, a special agent of the department of justice, was dismissed from the government service yesterday "for good and sufficient reasons," Attorney General Daugherty said late today. The announcement of dismissal was made earlier in the day at the capitol through the making public of a letter to Mr. Watts from Assistant Attorney General Holland, which declared that the action was taken because of "disloyalty to the department."

At the same time there was made public a copy of a memorandum from Mr. Watts to the department, which said that the dismissal had been occasioned by his supplying Representative Johnson, Republican South Dakota, with information on which the latter attacked the department of justice in a speech in the House.

"I ordered Watts, to be discharged; that's all I want to say about it," Attorney General Daugherty said today. "We can't discuss the discharge of people around here. I had good and sufficient reasons for dispensing with his services; they were not satisfactory and were dispensed with. Such situations are likely to happen again. That's all I care to say."

A moment later, however, the attorney general said in reply to a question that whatever Congress might think, "doesn't worry me a minute."

STRAUSS SENDS SHIP HIMSELF

WASHINGTON, April 25—Admiral Strauss, commanding the Asiatic Fleet, ordered his flagship, the Huron, from the Philippines to Chinese waters on his own initiative, it was said today at the navy department. Officials here assumed that Admiral Strauss had acted in the light of dispatches reaching him from China as to the situation there and returned on his flagship to his station in Chinese waters in order to keep in closer touch with developments and to be available in case protection of American citizens required any action on his part.

Man in Warm Springs Says
a Harry Armentrout Once Lived in That Place—Accused of Eluding Officers
Twice Before

WARM SPRINGS, April 25.—That Harry Crawford Armentrout, who is charged in Henrico county with the kidnaping of young Edward Gammon, may be the Harry Edward Armentrout, of divers adventures in Bath county is the belief of H. H. Byrd, an attorney of Warm Springs, Va., according to a letter today sent by Mr. Byrd to the Richmond authorities. The letter reads: "In reading the account of the kidnaping of young Edward Gammon, I noticed the kidnaper is Harry Crawford Armentrout. In the detailed account given by the boy, he says that they left Richmond Nov. 22, 1919, and caught a train for Wilburn, Va., and from there went through West Virginia, stopping at various places. 'I am wondering if 'Bill' could mean Millboro, Va., as we had a rather notorious character by the name of Harry Crawford Armentrout, who formerly lived at Millboro, Bath county, Va., and the description of the Gammon boy gives of his kidnaper fits the Harry Crawford Armentrout who fled from Bath county in about 1916, or 1917, to the best of my recollection. 'Armentrout slipped into Valley Center, Highland county, Va., one night and stole three bags of wool from the barn of a farmer by the name of Wade; came through by way of Warm Springs, in the night time, and sold the wool in Covington, Va. (wool at that time was very high priced). 'The citizens of the Valley Center community got on the trail of the wool and followed it, and were thoroughly convinced of the identity of the thief and swore out a warrant for this same Harry Crawford Armentrout, and Armentrout was arrested in Bath county by C. A. Gum, sheriff. 'Mr. Gum got back to Warm Springs late in the afternoon, and as it turned out to be a beautiful, moonlight night, Mr. Gum, with Boyd McDannald, the driver, and with George W. Cleet, left Warm Springs with the prisoner for Monterey, a distance of 35 miles. 'After leaving Warm Springs, and while crossing Rocky Ridge, Armentrout succeeded in persuading the sheriff to let him out of the car for a few minutes. After getting out of the car and consuming a few minutes he made a break into the woods and successfully eluded the sheriff and his two companions. 'Armentrout was next located working in a saw mill in West Virginia, and Mr. Gum and L. S. McManamay went over to West Virginia to get him, and after making the proper arrangements for the West Virginia officers to accompany them they surrounded the saw mill shanty in which Armentrout was supposed to be sleeping, but he made a successful escape through the roof of the shanty in his night clothes and bare feet, although there was a heavy frost on the ground. 'The draft then came on and Armentrout boldly sent in his registration card as working in a munition factory, I think in the city of Richmond. When the sheriff of Highland county went to Richmond to get Armentrout he was gone, and we had heard nothing of him in this country until the kidnaping of the young Gammon boy. 'Armentrout has a brother living at Millboro Springs, Va., who is a respectable young man. 'Ruthen's declaration of independence was written in a Washington (D. C.) hotel, and her first executive was a Pittsburg lawyer.

NATIONS WHO WAR PUT IN SAME CLASS WITH MEN

BALTIMORE, Md., April 25.—Nations declaring war would be put in the same class as individuals committing murder and would be punishable under a new international code, it was offered in the form of resolutions and reports at the opening session of the National League of Women Voters here today should be put in effect.

The entire day was given over to committee reports and resolutions which will come up for action later. Creation of a department on international co-operation to prevent war was recommended.

One of the functions of this department would be to keep in touch with the women of all other countries in a world wide movement of womanhood against the terror.
